

Welcome to the Home Sale Network

No.1 across the UK

• What does this mean if I'm selling?

It can give you that all-important head start in a competitive market. Any buyers moving to your area through the network will see your property first, before those of other local agencies. They will also be confident of receiving the best possible guidance and comprehensive local knowledge.

• How does the network maintain its high standards?

The network is backed by award-winning Cendant Mobility, the world's leading relocation company for over 50 years. They regularly 'mystery shop' member agents and monitor their performance to ensure the most beneficial service for you.

• How else does Cendant Mobility help the network?

Cendant Mobility handles over 130,000 family moves each year due to company relocations, so they provide a great many introductions and referrals. They also find homes for employees from The Americas, Asia, Australia and Europe, which means even more potential buyers for you from around the world.

What does it take to be a member agent?

We belong to the Home Sale Network, a group of 750 of the best independent Estate Agents across the UK. It's a genuine privilege, with every agent carefully selected and only one representative in each area.

What we have in common is exceptional selling ability and the highest levels of service. As a network, we sell a house in Britain every two minutes.

• How is this different from a big, nationwide agent?

For starters, you'll never be shuffled around from branch to branch. Instead we refer you personally to an agent considered the best in that area. Their experienced, dedicated staff can offer a unique insight into all the issues that are part of living and buying there, with helpful advice that suits you, not them.

• What does this mean if I'm buying?

Quite simply, you won't have to take your chances with an agent you don't know in an unfamiliar area. All your details and requirements can be passed easily through the network, so your recommended agent will already know what you want. You can also look at thousands of properties exclusive to member agents online at www.home-sale.co.uk.

...discover the benefits of teamwork today

As part of the Home Sale Network, we are in a unique position to help you move.

- National network of 750 Estate Agents nationwide
- Branches in major towns, cities and rural areas
- One exclusive member in each market
- Together members of the Home Sale Network collectively sell a house in Britain every two minutes
- Unique access to out of town buyers and sellers through our referral system

Call us on 0800 454 898
to speak to your nationwide expert

Telephone calls may be monitored and recorded for training and security purposes.

Working together nationwide we get you moved

Together we guarantee your property matters